A girl was so seriously injured by a sex fiend that she needed an emergency operation, a court was told. Her attacker was jailed for 13 years.

Two large gas towers in Northampton could go out of use soon, and then be demolished. They are near St Peter's Way roundabout.

A pensioner who was attacked and forced to open his safe by a violent drug addict died in hospital eight weeks later, a court heard.

Father is shot in own back garden

THE family of a Northampton man who was shot at his home, have spoken out about the horror of his attack.

Father-of-four Jeremiah Fletcher was shot in the leg in the garden of his house in Bern Links, Briar Hill.

The 31-year-old suffered a gun-shot wound to his calf and was taken to Northampton General Hospital for treatment, where his father, Danny Fletcher, said he was still recovering.

Mr Fletcher said: "Jeremiah has suffered a serious injury to his calf and has undergone three operations already at the hospital and is still receiving treatment.

"It was a horrific attack and totally unprovoked. We do not have any idea who could have done this.

"The person who did this didn't care about the children being in the house or the injury they caused.

"We want to find the person responsible."

On the evening of the attack Mr Fletcher heard a noise at the back door of his property and went outside to investigate.

He saw a man dressed in dark clothing, crouched down and carrying a gun, which he used to shoot him.

His father added: "Jeremiah called me to tell me he had been shot and I went straight round. There was blood everywhere. It was all over the kitchen and the garden."

The victim's wife, Jo Fletcher, aged 26, said her husband's injury was serious and that he would be in hospital until at least the end of the week.

She added: "I've never been so scared in my life. It was awful.

"I have been so worried about him. I've been having panic attacks and I haven't slept for days.

"I'm worried about the children's safety.

"It's made me feel really nervous about being at home. I want to move."

The attack happened on June 29 between 11.30pm and 11.50pm and the offender is described as a man of stocky build and around 6ft.

It is believed the offender left the scene in a BMW estate car which contained at least one other occupant.

The car drove off down Ashbrow Road and was later found burned out just off the Newport Pagnell Road, on the back road to Great Houghton.

Police are confident the shooting was related to a private dispute and there was no danger to members of the public.

A police spokesman said: "Shootings in Northampton are thankfully few and far between and long may it continue. There is no reason for residents in Briar Hill to be worried about their safety."

Witnesses to the incident, or anyone with information, can call police on 03000 111222 or Crimestoppers anonymously on 0800 555 111.

End in sight for gas towers

TWO large gas towers in the centre of Northampton could be classed as "non-operational" within the next few months, paving the way for their demolition.

The West Northamptonshire Development Corporation (WNDC) has been holding talks with National Grid for a number of years about the possibility of demolishing the two towers, which stand on the St Peter's Way roundabout and in nearby Towcester Road.

The organisation hopes to clear the site as part of its plans to regenerate the "Northampton waterside" along the River Nene.

And in papers seen by the group's board on Tuesday, the WNDC's director of regeneration, Chris Garden, said the end of the towers could come sooner than many people had expected.

He said: "The operational review of gas storage capacity by National Grid is currently under way and due to conclude in October 2011.

"It is anticipated that this will confirm the gas holders as 'non-operational' as early as the end of 2011.

"Dialogue continues with National Grid at a high level with respect to potential development opportunities and scenarios.

"There is the potential to fund a site demolition appraisal in advance of the final decision which will allow earlier development on those sites when available. This is in discussion with National Grid and a report will be made to the board in September."

The site of the two gasometers was highlighted as a possible development area last month when a bid to create a 300-acre "enterprise zone" in the centre of town was revealed by Northampton Borough Council.

CELEBRITIES and community groups made performing look like "a walk in the park" at Wootton's annual festival.

The Walk In The Park event, organised by Wootton and East Hunsbury Parish Council, was held at Wootton Community Centre in Curtlee Hill, Wootton, Northampton, on Friday and Saturday.

Thousands of people attended the sixth annual event on Friday night with music sets from top performers, including pop group S Club, Curiosity Killed The Cat and The Real Thing.

Local gospel singer, Evangeline Anyaoha, winner of Wootton's Got Talent 2010, pulled in the crowds with her performance on the same bill sheet as the big names, which included former X Factor finalists, Diva Fever.

17-year-old Miss Anyaoha, from Grange Park, Northampton, performed a variety of covers, including Lean on Me and Feeling Good, which she performed at last year's talent contest, and a duet of Joyful Joyful with her 13-year-old brother, Victory.

The Caroline Chisholm School pupil said: "It was really exciting to perform at the show and be on the same set as the celebrities. It was a great experience. I was slightly nervous but I loved performing in front of all those people and it was great fun."

Miss Anyaoha, who plans to go to university to study pharmacy, but will continue with her singing, also sang on Saturday, which was filled with a variety of performances from community-based acts.

She added: "It was great to see so many people turn out and to have so much support over the weekend. It's a brilliant event for families and I was so pleased to be part of it."

Around 10,000 people attended the free event on Saturday, which included two stages and performances from Northampton schools and well-known bands.

Bus driver is cleared

A FATHER, whose talented graphic artist daughter was killed when a bus hit her bicycle on a busy shopping street, said the family had been through "hell" as the driver was acquitted.

Jayne Helliwell, aged 25, of Braunston, was killed after being struck by a bus in Oxford Street in London in April last year.

The artist and photographer was on her way to a photoshoot with the band Fun Lovin' Criminals when the accident occurred.

Carlton Lewars, aged 60, of Tottenham, north London, walked free from Southwark Crown Court on Monday when prosecutors offered no evidence against him. He had been accused of causing death by dangerous driving.

Originally of Greenway, Braunston, the former William Parker School, Daventry, pupil had been living in the capital with her boyfriend, Daniel Smallwood, from Daventry, for the past three years.

Speaking outside court, Miss Helliwell's father Peter, deputy headteacher of Danetre School, in Daventry, said: "I want the judge to know we were in court and that we were going through sheer hell.

"She was 25, at the height of everything, taken away in an instant. Everybody is absolutely devastated."

However, he said the family and Miss Helliwell's grieving boyfriend did not blame Mr Lewars for what had happened.

He added: "We bear no animosity towards Mr Lewars, and Jayne, my daughter, would not have wanted that man to go to prison. She was not that kind of person."

The 60-year-old thanked the police and London Mayor, Boris Johnson, for their support, but slammed bus company Metroline for not getting in touch with the family sooner.

He claimed the firm did not contact the family for six months, and said they "showed no remorse whatsoever".

Relatives of Miss Helliwell, including her mother, Barbara, aged 59, and sister Vicki, aged 31, were at court.

Mr Lewars claimed a sudden attack of sciatic pain meant he could not control his foot at the time of the crash, and so was pressing the accelerator pedal rather than the brake.

Mr Helliwell said: "Sciatica has now been brought to the fore and if you suddenly have this kind of reaction, should a driver be employed if they have sciatic pain?"

Judge Deborah Taylor told the court: "It is always a great tragedy when someone is killed in an accident of this kind."

Miss Helliwell was working as a freelance graphic designer after graduating from Kingston University.

She was designing artwork for Fun Lovin' Criminals.

Mr Helliwell, aged 59, said: "Jayne loved life and was a real spark. She was a real light in our lives.

"She was just starting to make a name for herself and this is devastating."

Trip of lifetime for Kai

A SCHOOLBOY from Northampton thought he had already had the trip of a lifetime when he saw the best football team in the world live... until club officials offered him a trial on the spot.

Seven-year-old Kai Fifield, of Barry Primary School, in Abington, travelled with his dad Delaney to the world-famous Camp Nou stadium in Barcelona to watch a league game and saw his heroes parade their league trophy in front of home fans.

The next day, the last of their trip, they took a tour of the ground and the club museum and were about to leave when Kai asked to join in an informal five-a-side game with some local boys on a pitch on the stadium site.

Little did he know that Barca's youth coaches were watching and they were so impressed they invited Kai to a trial.

Mr Fifield said: "As the game finished, the kids all started putting the same top back on so I asked who they played for and I was surprised when they said 'Barcelona'. Then as we were going a coach came up and said the last trial of the season for the September intake was the next day and could we come.

"I explained we were leaving tomorrow but they were persistent. So we cancelled the flights and I brought him back the next day."

Kai, whose favourite player is Argentinian forward Lionel Messi, played in the trial on the first-team training pitch and a proud Mr Fifield said a Spanish coach described his performance as "very, very good".

The Fifields are now waiting for notification whether Kai has made it into Barcelona Escola, a prestigious soccer school that is the first step to the club's legendary academy, and therefore be on the books of the lauded European champions.

Asked whether the family would move from Abington to Barcelona if Kai got the call, Mr Fifield was unequivocal. "I would pack our bags and move there tomorrow if they asked. Opportunities like that come around only once in your life. We'd do whatever it took."

However, whatever happens to Kai, he will remain English. Mr Fifield said: "It would be a long, long way down the line but if it ever came to it I'm sure he would play for England, whichever club he ends up playing for."

Fun at the fair

THOUSANDS of people showed their support for the 30th annual Northamptonshire Country Fair on Sunday.

The event, which regularly attracts around 10,000 visitors, took place at Horton Road, Brafield-on-the-Green.

The show, formerly known as the Castle Ashby Country Fair, is organised by registered charity, the Yardley Hastings Society, and raises funds for Yardley Hastings village, with last year's event making about £8,000.

Anita Morgan, one of the organisers of the fair from the Yardley Hastings Society, said: "This year's event has been a real success.

"I think numbers have matched last year and we are hoping to have raised around the same, if not more, again.

"It's our 30th year and it's good to see that people are still coming out to support us.

"People come from all over to visit on the day.

"There's something on for everyone."

She said the event, which is run by volunteers, is put on by the community for the community, and added: "It's a great day for families and all members of the community. It also raises money for local causes in Yardley Hastings village, such as projects in the school, church and memorial hall."

The show included a falconry display, Viking act, dog show, parade of classic cars and motorbikes, gymnastics display and archery.

Town bids to go gold

JUDGES from East Midlands in Bloom descended on Northampton yesterday as the town attempted to win gold for the third year in a row.

The panel of judges received a tour of Northampton's parks and open spaces, including Abington Park and Bradlaugh Fields, as well as touring civic floral displays, allotments and community efforts.

They also visited school gardens at Abington Vale, Bridge-water Drive Primary School, St Andrew's Hospital, Spinney Hill, Kettering Road and St Mark's Gardens.

Northampton won gold in the regional In Bloom round for the second successive time last year, and picked up a silver award in the "Best City" category in the national heats.

After the judging, East Midlands' judges praised the "great enthusiasm and support" shown in Northampton and were particularly impressed with the community involvement.

Councillor John Yates, North-

Last year's judges

ampton Borough Council cabinet member for planning and the environment, said: "Everyone has made a fantastic effort to get involved with In Bloom.

"In parks, private and community gardens and in the town centre, things are really looking good this summer and that is a tribute to the hard work and enthusiasm of the many people involved."

George Howard, who chairs the Castle Environmental Group, said: "We have had a lot more community interest this year.

"All sorts of people have been getting involved so hopefully that will help us stand out."

Forty-five businesses which are part of BID (Business Improvement District) have supported the town with more than 200 floral displays in hanging baskets, containers and troughs in the town centre and on some of the roads leading into Northampton, in addition to the almost 300 hanging baskets and troughs provided by the Northampton Borough Council.

Stephen Chown, chairman of Northampton Town Centre BID, said: "The flowers have added real vibrancy to the town centre, which puts a smile on people's faces."

Cosworth lose F1 deal

THE Northampton engineering firm Cosworth is to lose its biggest Formula 1 client, it was announced only days before the British Grand Prix at Silverstone.

The St James-based company currently supplies engines to three teams in the championship: Williams, Hispania Racing and Virgin Racing.

But it was revealed on Monday that Williams had signed a deal with rival engine provider Renault, which supplies championship leaders Red Bull Racing, as well as the Lotus Renault and Team Lotus outfits.

The deal will initially last for the 2012 and 2013 seasons, but was described by Williams's chairman Adam Parr as a "long-term" plan.

Cosworth declined to comment on the announcement.

Announcing the deal, which revives a partnership that has won four drivers' championships and five constructors' trophies, Mr Parr said: "Renault is serious about success and so are we."

"They compete in F1 because it's at the cutting edge of developing technologies and because it is the pinnacle of motorsport."

"This is also why we compete in the sport and together we believe we can return Williams to our former competitiveness."

"They are not only making a championship-winning engine, but they are independent, totally committed to Formula 1 and, of course, there is a resonance and heritage to Williams-Renault that creates a buzz for both of us."

He added: "We had an understanding with Cosworth that continuing beyond this year was dependent on the longer-term prospects with the new engine. So this was foreseen."

"Having said that, Cosworth is an excellent engine partner."

"We're enormously grateful to them for all the hard work they have put into our partnership and we know they will continue to work tirelessly for the remainder of this year."

FACT File

The Williams / Renault partnership:

1992 - The car dominates that year's championship, winning 10 of the 16 races and powering Nigel Mansell to championship victory by the mid-season Hungarian Grand Prix. The team also takes the constructors' championship

1993 - Williams Renault wins the constructors' title and the drivers' title with Alain Prost

1994 - Another constructors' trophy makes three in a row for the partnership

1996 - Damon Hill wins the drivers' title for the team, and the team collects the constructors' trophy

1997 - A fourth drivers' world championship with Jacques Villeneuve, and a fifth constructors' title.

However, we do reserve the right to charge if the mortgage is more complex. This fee would be no more than 0.5%. For example for a loan amount of £100,000 the fee would be £500. Alternatively you can opt to pay as a fee of 1% for example a loan amount of £100,000 the fee would be £1,000 and we will refund any commission received from the lender.

£130k to fix two homes

A TOTAL of £130,000 is due to be spent by Northampton Borough Council repairing two thatched "council houses" which date back to the 17th century.

Plans have been revealed by the authority to repair the two cottages at Abington Park.

The work, designed to make sure the two properties remain in "reasonable condition for the foreseeable future", will include the repair of the buildings' thatched roofs, the installation of new wooden doors and windows and the installation of improved facilities inside the two properties.

The council's cabinet member for regeneration, Councillor Tim Hadland (Con, Old Duston), said the houses – only one of which is rented out at the moment – would be saved from further deterioration by the work.

He said: "The cottages are located in the heart of Abington Park, one of the jewels in Northampton's crown.

"They are listed buildings that we as an authority have an obligation to maintain in an appropriate condition.

"This refurbishment is needed now to prevent further deterioration and decay which, if left, would inevitably lead to much higher costs."

But opposition leaders at the Guildhall have questioned whether the historic council houses should be refurbished ahead of other council houses in the town, which they claim are in even greater need of repair.

The leader of the Labour opposition group on the council, Councillor Lee Mason (Lab, Brookside) said: "While I support the concept of council housing and any money spent is a good thing, I do question whether this amount of money could have been used more wisely on more pressing needs, like dealing with damp in children's bedrooms rather than fixing a thatched roof."

The council's plans to restore the two cottages were approved by the authority's cabinet in February.

The council's planning department will make a final decision on whether the work can go ahead in the next few months.

The thatched cottages in Abington Park could be repaired for a total of £130,000

Calls for demolition

A COUNCILLOR is leading calls for the Northampton house, where four members of the Ding family were murdered, to be demolished and a permanent memorial created in its place.

University lecturer Jifeng Ding, his wife Helen Chui and their two daughters, 18-year-old Xing and Alice, aged 12, were stabbed at their home in Pioneer Close, Simpson Manor, Wootton, on Friday, April 29, the day of the Royal Wedding.

The murders shocked the local community, and has now led for calls for a permanent memorial to be created at the site of the former family home.

Councillor Andre Gonzalez de Savage (Con, East Hunsbury) lives nearby and is a member of Wootton and East Hunsbury Parish Council. He said the parish council hoped to work with the house owner and relatives of the Ding family to see the house demolished rather than sold on, and a permanent place of remembrance created in its place.

He said: "This was a horrific murder and the community has really been wounded significantly."

"We have spoken about memorial gardens."

"We would like to see the house demolished and feel it is right to place some sort of memorial there to those gorgeous and incredibly talented young girls and their parents who worked very hard and were good people in the community."

"I would love to see some sort of memorial left there in keeping with the kind of people they were and offering an opportunity for encouragement."

"Nothing has been discussed formally, and clearly there are sensitivities about the subject, so we will have to see."

"We are very much at an early stage, but I think a lot of people want, and need, closure in our area."

"Any memorial needs to come from within the community and we very much want to see that happen and see that those lives are not lost in vain."

The house in Pioneer Close where the family was murdered

'We're traumatised'

MORE time is needed for the community in Wootton to come to terms with the murders of the Ding family before deciding what should happen next, according to the local Neighbourhood Watch chairman.

David Major said: "We have had individual thoughts but haven't held a meeting to discuss the issue."

"But I'm sure we will be speaking to the relevant people in future to find out what they would like.

"It is still very much fresh in people's minds."

He added: "We are still a traumatised community and we need to wait until we feel the time is right."

Mistaken identities

YOUNG actors from the area are bringing a Shakespeare comic play into a modern setting.

The Royal & Derngate's Youth Theatre are performing The Comedy of Errors tomorrow and Saturday in the Royal auditorium in Northampton.

The story is a tale of mistaken identity where two sets of identical twins are separated at birth. Chaos results when the twins find themselves reunited.

But this contemporary production brings the story into a strange make-believe version of London that is full of fancy dress, wizards and light sabre battles.

Slapstick humour, puns and wordplay are all part of the fun.

This production of the play has been directed by Tom Wright. The cast, who are aged between 14 and 21 years old, have been looking at the themes of the play since January and they have been in an intensive rehearsal period since May.

They have also had the chance to rehearse their fight scenes with a professional fight director.

The Royal & Derngate's Youth Theatre production of The Comedy of Errors is on tomorrow at 7.30pm and Saturday at 2.30pm and 7.30pm at the Royal. Tickets cost £7 and can be purchased by calling the box office on 01604 624811 or by going online at www.royalandderngate.co.uk

From the dark side

MEGAN Fox may have departed the Transformers franchise, but director Michael Bay and the remaining cast return for an explosive third chapter, which is the first of the series to be screened in 3D and IMAX 3D.

Like its predecessors, Transformers: Dark Of The Moon is a ridiculously entertaining thrill-ride that jettisons script, dialogue and characterisation to deliver 154 minutes of testosterone-fuelled carnage. The flimsy plot opens in the early 1960s when a Cybertronian spacecraft crash-lands on the Moon, sparking a race between the Americans and the Russians to reach the satellite.

During a TV blackout, the crew of Apollo 11 retrieves an important Autobot artefact and returns it to Earth, unaware that more than 40 years later, the device will spark a titanic war with the Decepticons.

As usual, Sam Witwicky (Shia LaBeouf) is caught in the eye of the storm, joined by his pretty girlfriend Carly (Rosie Huntington-Whiteley).

While Optimus Prime (voiced by Peter Cullen), Bumblebee and the other Autobots protect the humans, field commanders Major Lennox (Josh Duhamel) and Master Sergeant

Epps (Tyrese Gibson) spearhead the final stand against the Decepticons, comprising Megatron (Hugo Weaving) and his menagerie of terrifying predators. Once you accept that Transformers: Dark Of The Moon junks logic and the laws of physics at every turn, it's a high-octane hoot. Aside from James Cameron, there isn't a better director of all-guns-blazing action than Bay. He orchestrates some truly jaw-dropping sequences here including an explosive highway pursuit and a breathtaking escape from a toppling skyscraper.

Connells expands with new lettings division

Award-winning local estate agency Connells in Northampton is pleased to announce the launch of its new lettings service. Headed up by recently appointed Lettings Manager Mark Alvis, Connells new division will respond to increasing demand for rental property in and around Northampton.

New manager Mark joins Connells lettings service with over 16 years estate agency experience. He has been based exclusively in Northamptonshire throughout his career, so has an excellent working knowledge of the local housing market.

"The launch of Connells lettings service is great news for local landlords and tenants," says Mark. "We are seeing a very buoyant lettings market in Northampton at the moment but not enough rental properties to fulfil demand. Connells new lettings service aims to address this by helping landlords expand their portfolios and providing tenants with greater access to high quality rental properties."

"Our lettings service will encompass all aspects of the letting process, from finding tenants their perfect home to advising buy-to-let investors tying in with the sales side of our business and the expertise we can offer on things like conveyancing, surveys and mortgages."

"Connells provides an excellent lettings service in other towns across the country and I'm delighted that this is being expanded into Northampton," says Jeffrey Servent, Area Director for Connells in Northamptonshire.

"Prior to setting up the new service, our customers would often ask if we did lettings," Jeff continues. "Connells has a long and trusted reputation in Northampton so customers were keen to use us for more than just sales. We listened to our clients and invested in setting up this new service."

Branch Manager Gemma Downham had this to say on the launch: "It's very exciting to be launching lettings in our town centre office. Our office is in a great location which will benefit landlords marketing their properties in our window so I am confident this will be well received in the town."

All landlords and tenants are invited to please call Lettings Manager Mark Alvis on 01604 638281 or email: mark.alvis@connells.co.uk

GARDNER Paula Maria (nee Blunt)

30.12.67 - 05.07.10

A wonderful loving caring daughter sadly missed.

I offered to take your place if only you could stay
I even offered part of me if it took the pain away
But none of this was meant to be
It was your name God called he didn't want me
So he sent angels down to take your hand and lead you to his promised land
To his green fields of dew with trickling streams and warm sun every day
Even though a year has passed my silent tears still fall
I still feel loneliness and pain
I miss you more than words can say I keep your picture close to me and talk to you every day
I say I love you Paula and then I hear you say
Love you too mum
Take care sweetheart
God Bless, Sleep Tight
Love you always
Mum xx

Michael Joseph Prendiville

(Dad)

Taken from us so suddenly, 30th June.
Reunited with our beloved Mum.

We were not there to see you die, to hold your hand or say goodbye, but we will still remember our whole lives through the last few words we had with you. God called your name so softly, that only you could hear and no one heard the footsteps of Angels drawing near.

It broke my heart to lose you, but you did not go alone, for part of me went with you Dad the day God called you home. Your broken heart is mended now and I know you are at peace, as you take your place by Mum's side once more, God granted you the only wish you were looking for.
Good night, sleep tight now take your rest, until we meet again Daddy, you were the best.

Your broken hearted
Daughter Maz and Son in Law Mark
xxxx

We hold you close within our hearts and there you shall remain, to walk with us throughout our lives, until we meet again. So may the wind of love blow softly and whisper for you to hear, we love you Grandad so very much and wish that you were here.

Your loving Grandsons

Dannyboy, Ryan & Connor

xxxx

Funeral arrangements to follow.

Michael Joseph Prendiville

(Dad)

Taken from us so suddenly 30th June.
Reunited with our beloved Mum. Both R.I.P.

Dad, you have gone now just like Mum.
Yet again no farewell words spoken,
no time to say goodbye.

We lost Mum three years September and you just wasn't the same again.
It killed us when we lost Mum, losing you has brought back that memory and a long with that the pain.

Our heart was broken when Mum died and now its cut in two,
just don't know how to feel anymore.
Now we have lost you our whole life is shattered.
We pray to God your with our Mum and your broken heart is finally at ease.

You closed your eyes with a grieving heart, now rest in peace as your at Mum's side with her warm and loving smile and in each others arms.
Rest now dear Dad as we say goodbye with tears flowing from our eyes.

Good Night, God Bless Dad.

Just don't know what else to say as the pain hurts so bad and we feel empty inside,

all that we can say is goodbye.

Love you Dad, we will never will forget you.

Hugs and kisses to you and Mum.

R.I.P.

Your broken hearted children,
Carmel, Mick, Richard, Markie and (Daz, Charlotte and Tia)

xxxxx

Johnson delighted by Thornton fitness

THE Cobblers will keep Kevin Thornton on a month-to-month contract after the enigmatic midfielder returned to pre-season training in first-class condition.

Town boss Gary Johnson told the Irishman on the final day of last season that he would only remain on the books at Sixfields if he stayed fit during the off-season and did enough to impress when the squad reunited on Friday.

Thornton has achieved both those targets, and will now find himself in the frame for selection when the npower League Two campaign kicks off against Accrington on August 6.

"There are a couple who have got a bit more to do than everyone else and when I say that people will straight away think I'm talking about Kevin Thornton," said Johnson.

"But he's come back very fit and very strong, and very committed to what we're doing. I'm really pleased with him.

"We had to make sure he looked after himself over the summer which he must have done and he's been in the 'good group' ever since we came back.

"He can't do any more than that, and then when we start doing the football work he'll do well because he's a really good footballer."

Thornton, however, will only remain on a monthly contract for the time being as Johnson feels this is the most beneficial arrangement to all parties.

With Arron Davies and Jake Robinson added to the list of creative midfielders at the club over the summer, the former Coventry City trainee faces some stiff competition for a place in the starting line-up, but the manager is a keen admirer of his talents.

It would have been very easy for Johnson to let Thornton go in the summer but he gave him the chance in the final two games to prove his worth, a leap of faith that paid off when he scored in the final game of the season, at Morecambe.

Now the boss wants to see the 24-year-old – and the rest of the side – hit the ground running as he plans a tilt at the league two top three.

"I need to have a very fit player for the whole season there because we need to start quickly and get in credit as quickly as possible," he said. "The option we have on him is for another month, and then it's another month and so on for as many months as I want to keep him at the club. If I feel at any time that he deserves a longer period of time then I'll talk to him about it.

"He trusts what I'm doing, I trust what he's doing, and he can't be any further ahead than what he is now. I think it helps both parties that we know what we're looking for and that deal, and bringing in the players we have, will keep him on his toes."

Paul is keen to improve

PAUL DORAN-JONES says improving his scrummaging skills with forwards coach Dorian West was a big reason in moving to Saints.

The new prop is currently training with the England World Cup squad in Surrey as he battles to be part of Martin Johnson's final 30, but is looking forward to joining up with Saints.

Doran-Jones was a regular in the Gloucester front row, but gave up the security of first team rugby to join Saints and fight it out with Brian Mujati and Tom Mercey for the tight-head position.

And the 26-year-old feels that competition and the tutoring of West will help him improve as he looks to become a permanent fixture in the England front-row.

Doran-Jones said: "It is going to be a massive step up at Northampton and a great opportunity. I am looking forward to getting into training and working with Dorian, that is one of the reasons I signed for Northampton and to work with the front row boys that are there already in Brian, Dylan (Hartley), Soane (Tonga'u'uiha) and Mercey.

"They have got some great players and I am looking forward to fitting into that front row battle. I have met Dorian a few times around the circuit. He has that front row experience and tutelage that perhaps I missed at Gloucester last season.

"With Greg Somerville going I didn't have that senior tighthead that I needed as a young tighthead. I want that learning for my game. I know Dorian can complete that. My position is all about scrummaging, especially at international level. I certainly need to improve all aspects of my game but that is one I will definitely be working on."

Doran Jones feels that if he can force his way into what was generally regarded as the best front row in the Premiership last season then it will stand him in good stead with England in mind.

"The competition is going to be fierce at Northampton," said Doran Jones. "Brian, Tom and Soane have had a fantastic season for the club. Hopefully they are going to bring me up to a new level and I will be playing my best rugby. I am going to learn as much as I can from them.

"Your education doesn't finish while you are playing, I am looking to improve and if I can do that then hopefully I can make a major claim for a place."
